1. Five hundred Chinese college students in Shantung Province have been sent to Peiping for a six months' course in the Russian language. After the completion of the language program, the students will be sent to Soviet institutions where they will receive further study on subjects which they have already studied in China. Upon their return to China, they will teach in Chinese universities, using the Russian language.
2. The daughter of a minor official in Tsinan, who has already completed her preliminary studies in pharmacy, has been selected for this training. She is scheduled to go to the USSR in June 1950, where she will continue to study pharmacy.
3. One of the purposes of this program is to supplant English as China's secondary language in academic circles.
